Code of Conduct for Interuniversalism Tutors, where “Tutor” refers specifically to an Interuniversalism teacher of both theoretical and pragmatic aspects of the ontology; and where “Organization” refers to Interuniversalism Erfan Halqeh Canada Foundation.

- All activities related to practical and theoretical Interuniversalism (Erfan Halqeh) should be introduced as part of the ontology. The theoretical aspect is fulfilled by the Interuniversalism constitution, and the practical aspect is fulfilled by the Links, which provide various connections to the Interuniversal Consciousness.
- The Complementary and Alternative Medicine applications of Interuniversalism are called Faradarmani and Psymontology.
- Interuniversal Consciousness is the supreme intelligence governing all universes.
- Considering the fact that Links are activated only on the step of Eshgh (right brain approach), there is absolutely no need for techniques such as power of suggestion; imagination and picturing; symbols and metaphors; preaching and advice; mantra; hypnosis, etc. Also age; level of education; how much one reads or knows; how much one has experience with spiritual or religious experiences; powers of logic; cultivation of personal qualities; worldly qualifications and titles; physical or mental endurance practices; religious knowledge and rituals; spiritual techniques; cultivated talents; innate gifts; personal competence; physical abilities; and diet has no impact on the quality, function and outcome of Linking.
- Connecting with Interuniversal Consciousness through the Links can be done by all humans regardless of their personal beliefs, race, and nationality.
- Interuniversal Consciousness is independent from any personal discernment, and representing it with any bias can cause misunderstanding and error. Tutors must refrain from satisfying their ego by promoting themselves and their interpretations instead the Interuniversal Consciousness. Any personal discernment must be presented clearly as independent from the Interuniversalism syllabus in a way that students can easily discern them as distinct subjects.
- A Tutor is someone who teaches the Interuniversalism syllabus and is allowed and able to activate Links and Protective Layers for students within the context of their related semesters.
- Tutors are role models of the international Interuniversalism community, and they have accepted the truth of the entire Interuniversalism constitution. Tutors MUST be loyal to the original teachings of Interuniversalism, and have taken an oath of allegiance and fidelity.
- Activating Links and Protective Layers, and becoming a Fara-therapist or Psymontology practitioner, is only possible after signing the respective certificates and accepting their codes of conduct. Tutors must try their best to convey all the teachings of the related semesters, including the provision of relevant literature, to avoid any misunderstanding or bias amongst students. Tutors are required to use the certification documents provided by the Organization and to retain a signed copy which will be provided to the Organization.
- Admission of students should be done in a way that preserves the integrity of the Interuniversalism teachings. Receiving an admission fee is a highly recommended action toward this goal; a fee expresses a student’s commitment toward learning the concepts of Interuniversalism.
- Any enlightenment and epiphanies are an absolute divine blessing, and no Tutor shall relate them to any of their own activities in the course.
- All Tutors must be aligned with the values and aims of the Interuniversalism community.

Wishing you absolute well-being and awareness,

Dr. Mohammad Ali Taheri
